

Cathy Catroppa
Psychologist

Cathy Catroppa is a highly experienced Educational and Developmental Psychologist with more than 30 years of dedicated service in the field. Cathy's extensive career has seen her work at clinical institutions such as the Murdoch Children's Research Institute and the Royal Children's Hospital since 1989. During her tenure, she specialized in conducting assessments for children and adolescents, gaining invaluable experience in understanding and addressing their unique needs. In addition, Cathy also serves as a Supervising Psychologist, providing guidance to Master of Educational Psychology and PhD Psychology students. Her dedication to mentoring the next generation of psychologists showcases her commitment to fostering excellence in the profession. Working at SPELD Victoria from 2017 to 2023, Cathy further honed her skills in supporting individuals with Specific Learning Difficulties. She also conducts assessments for attention deficit hyperactivity disorder and autism. Her expertise allows her to offer tailored support and recommendations for children and adolescents facing challenges in their educational and life journeys. Cathy's vast experience in this field, coupled with her compassionate approach, ensures that individuals and their families receive comprehensive and personalised care. Her dedication and passion for helping children and adolescents achieve their full potential has earned her a distinguished reputation among her peers and makes her an invaluable asset to Stars Psychology.
